

Yokohama Barrier-Free Access map

1 Day Trip to Chinatown from Shin-Yokohama

From the gateway of Yokohama to a world-class Chinatown

This is a route to view the main sightseeing spots in the Shin-Yokohama area such as Nissan Stadium and the Shin-Yokohama Ramen Museum from Kozukue Station on JR Yokohama Line, and followed up with traveling by train from Shin-Yokohama Station to enjoy Yokohama Chinatown. There is a route which starts at Shin-Yokohama Station, but this itinerary does require traveling uphill, so this route which starts from Kozukue Station is recommended especially for wheelchair users and the elderly as the roads are either downhill or level. When using trains, please keep in mind that there are elevators at all the stations: Kozukue Station, Shin-Yokohama Station, Kikuna Station (used for changing trains), and Motomachi-Chukagai Station on the Minatomirai Line (destination). The Chinatown area is an itinerary which starts and ends at Motomachi-Chukagai Station and is filled with food, souvenirs, and experiences.

Description of the pictograms

This map was created for the purpose of enabling elderly and disabled people to comfortably enjoy sightseeing in Yokohama. It contains information related to barrier-free areas and sites to see on the courses. We hope that this information will help you to determine what route you would like to take in order to enjoy sightseeing at your own pace.

- Wheelchair accessible toilets are available.
- Ostomate supported facilities are available.
- Facilities with nappy changing sheets, breastfeeding space, and other items that support infants are available.
- Writing board or paper is available to support written communication.
- Descriptions with braille and/or tactile pictures are available.
- Facilities allowing you to sit and have a rest, such as benches, are available.

From Kozukue Station to Nissan Stadium, a well-maintained, safe footpath runs along a road with low traffic.

Enter the premises once again from the marathon gate, and use the elevator diagonally to the right to get to the ring path on the 4th floor.

When you reach the East Gate square, go onto the East Gate bridge to your right. This is a gentle and easy downhill walk.

Go to the Hamatoribashi intersection from the East Gate bridge. Note that there is quite a lot of traffic here. The footpath along the river after you cross the bridge is easy to walk and recommended.

Turn right onto the approach to the white, pedestrians-only Sankaku Bridge.

This section is a pedestrian bridge. It is a moderate slope.

Using this elevator and going up to the pedestrian bridge makes it easy to go in the direction of Shin-Yokohama Station.

Station information

JR Kozukue Sta.

This station is the closest station to Nissan Stadium and is on the local Yokohama Line. There are elevators on both the inbound and outbound train platforms that go to the ticket gate floor and there is also a wheelchair-accessible toilet. To go to Nissan Stadium, go out the ticket gates and head toward the North Exit on your left.

Going out the ticket gate will take you to the north-south access way. It is wide and also convenient as a meeting place.

JR Shin-Yokohama Sta.

This station is the gateway to Yokohama serviced by the Tokaido Shinkansen, Yokohama Line, and Yokohama Municipal Subway Blue Line. The pedestrian bridges around the station and the platforms inside the station all have elevators. There are also several wheelchair-accessible toilets and a wide-range of barrier-free facilities.

A pedestrian bridge extends from the North Exit on the 2nd floor, and places around the station are connected by elevators.

JR/Tokyu Toyoko Line Kikuna Sta.

This station is used for changing between the Yokohama Line and the Tokyu Toyoko Line, with the two lines being connected by elevators and barrier-free corridors. Riding at the back of the train from Shibuya when changing to the Toyoko Line will enable you to smoothly move to Chinatown after you get off the train at Motomachi-Chukagai.

The elevator at the back of the station after entering the Toyoko Line ticket gates is for the train going to Motomachi-Chukagai Station.

Minatomirai Line Motomachi-Chukagai Sta.

This is the last stop on the Minatomirai Line that operates through with the Tokyu Toyoko Line. The platform is on the 4th floor underground and you need to use three elevators to get above ground. There is also a long underground corridor between the second and third elevators.

Exit 3 of the Chinatown Exit does not have an elevator, so use Exit 2 of the Yamashitacho Exit.
